My amazing friends

It takes time to make friends, but when you finally do, it's rewarding to have friends who are different and maybe the same in some ways. Today I'm going to write about my two best friends. They are Angel and Zaidoon.

Both of my two best friends have incredible personalities. They are always looking ways to entertain people and keep other people happy. Angel always used to make fun of things in class, one day we were studying the map of Canada when teacher asks him which province or territory is this he says Mexico all the time. On the other hand Zaidoon sings and acts funny to make people happy. Secondly, they are crazy about partying. Where ever there is party and they know about it you will find them there. To be honest they are very cute guys every girl falls for them. They have dark hair with brown eyes. Zaidoon's eyes are a bit bigger than Angel's though. Lastly, because of their appearance and personality they have a lot of friends but only few best friends.

In some ways they are two different people even in personality. When you look at other way Angel is a hypered person he has lots of energy always but it doesn't go in to use. Sometimes he is an unreliable person. Whatever he said he will do it he will not. One day he asked me if we can hang out I said yes we were supposed to meet at 4 o'clock but he forgot about I waited. When I called him he forgot about I waited and waited. When I called him an hour after he was at home and he was like "oh I'm sorry I forgot" so, after that I don't rely on him. On the other hand, Zaidoon is a loyal person he thinks about other people before himself. He is a reliable person too. He is always looking ways to help his family and friends and if he says that he will meet at 4 he will unlike Angel. Additionally, they're both talented people. Zaidoon is an amazing dancer but Angel he can't dance and I have never seen him dance. Secondly, Zaidoon is really good at doing math and it's his favorite subject. Also, on top of the dancing he loves to rap you will find him always rapping. And Angel first of all, he doesn't like school at all that's why after high school he just started working instead of continuing with his study. But he is very strong on doing graffiti art if he look in his binder you will see a lot of graffiti in it. All of in all, Zaidoon is a tall guy with a hip hop style he likes to wear sneakers with snap hats. When ever he goes shopping he comes back with new snap caps. Angel has more of a gentleman style and he is short the same height as me. He doesn't wear any hats or sneakers.

Even though they are two different people in the end they are my good friends and always there for me.

Friendship

Friendship can change a person's life and it can affect too in many ways. In the novel, Run By Eric Walters Winston and Terry's friendship improved Winston's behaviour. Winston's Behaviour has started to change because he was inspired by Terry. He got to learn that never run away from any situation. By staying with Terry and Doug, I think Winston has changed his point of view.

Terry's companionship with Winston taught him how to live and inspired him to do better in his life. At first, Winston was worried when Terry and Doug had a fight but later, Terry explained to Winston that no matter how many fights they have, they would always still be best friends. This shows that Winston is inspired by the fact that no matter how much you will fight with your loved ones, they will always remain in your heart. another example that shows that Winston has started to improve is that when Terry's leg got amputated he didn't lose courage and hope. He fought with the situation. He runs for the Marathon of Hope to get money for cancer research. This shows that this was a lesson For Winston that don't ran away from any situation, fight it and don't lose hope until You get the final result. This tells us that with good friend's company you got to improve Yourselfes and you got to learn more things that can help you in future.

In the novel Run, Terry's company with the Winston changed his behaviour towards life, Friends, and friendship. First, he was careless now he has started to care a lot. When Mr. Macdonald told Winston that he was going to publish an article about Terry and Doug's Fight. When Winston got to know all this he was saying it is wrong because he cares about Terry and Doug. This shows that Winston's behaviour has started to change his behaviour. He learnt to care a lot for Terry and Doug so that their friendship would not end. Another example that shows their friendship is that when Mr. Macdonald told Winston that Terry has stopped his run due to weakness and fatigue. Winston got very worried. This shows that Winston behaviour changed a lot. By spending some time with Terry and Doug, and he was very worried because Winston believes that they are their loved ones. Overall, the impact of good friendship in Winston's life improved him a lot, and taught him to have courage in every situation. living in company with good friends can inspire others and taught them different things so that they rectify themselves. With good friend's companionship people can become a more positive person because everybody has anger in some situations. It can improve their behaviour by seeing that how other are controlling their anger. As I stated in paragraphs, friendship can change other person's life. Friendship is a wonderful thing; everybody needs a good company to hang out with, to share their feelings.

What makes a true friendship last?

Is it possible to maintain a true friendship for more than 75 years in life? This question may shock you, but believe or not, Juanita and May's story of 75-year friendship are a real legend. A friend is the best thing you can be, and is the greatest thing you can ever have. Friendship is known as an valuable gift for people since ancient times. However, it is not true that everyone must deserve to have a true lasting friendship in lives, it depends on your efforts of having regular communication, being able to support and understand your friends and having some commonalities with your friends.

In the first place, having regular communication between friends is always the key to maintain any kinds of relationship, especially for a long-lasting friendship. The inspiring story of the two characters, Juanita and May is the greatest example to show the practise of seeing each other every week for 75 years. Although Juanita is living in a retirement home with disability, May visits her regularly. They chat about their lives and they are so delightful when they see each other every time. The regular contact keeps the friendship fresh and creates a strong bond. Oppositely, in the story of Necklace, Madame Lousiel and Madame Forester haven't kept in touch for 10 years. If they kept the regular contact with each other, the tragedy happened could be avoided. This proves regular communication with friends can make a significant change in life. To sum up, the more time you spend on your friends, the thicker and longer the friendship is.

In the second place, providing supports also plays an significant role in making a true friendship last, which you forgive and understand your friends. In the novel Touching Spirit Bear, Garvey and Edwin showed their greatest support to Cole, in which they forgive and understand Cole without questioning. For example, when Cole had to attend to the Circle Justice meeting after all the incidents happened, Garvey supports Cole without judging him anything. He absolutely trust and believed in Cole. Besides, Garvey listen to Cole all the time whether Cole say something with a positive or negative attitude. Garvey is always a great listener and supporter for Cole. In result, Cole has built a strong friendship with Garvey, change from his defiant attitude to a friendly one. This displays the importance of support in a time, lasting friendship. Moreover, in our daily lives, we experience a lot of things, whether it delights or upsets you. Do you prefer a friend who always have your back, or a friend who seldom care about you? It is a simple question with a simple answer. Friends always share the highs and the lows, failure and success, laughter and tears in life with you together, in which they provide shoulders when you cry, they laugh with you when you laugh. And this proves that support between friends make a friendship last. To sum up, the mutual support between friends makes a friendship stronger and last longer.

Lastly, having a significant connection with your friends always make some efforts, in when you share commonalities and common memories. When people share some connections, they are likely to have more topics to chat about, and they are more likely to have similar interests as well. These commonalities and common memories would enrich the friendship, in which provides nutrients for the friendship to grow beautifully. Juanita and May's meaningful story is the evidence to the statement. They have special connections between each other, and some common memories. They experienced things together in their lives, including happinesses and sadnesses. All these memories create a connection, which pulls them together. Furthermore, in the Touching Spirit Bear, the similar experience of Cole and Garvey makes them become closer to each other. Garvey teaches Cole a great lesson as he had made mistake in the past as well. Because of these experiences, Garvey and Cole builds a strong friendship. To sum up, connections including commonalities and common memories pull people together and makes friendships lasting.

In conclude, maintaining regular communication, providing supports and having connections are the keys for a long-lasting friendship. You should treasure the true friendship if you have one, and makes it last forever.
